1. What are cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are stored in your browser when you visit a website. They are used to remember your preferences, improve user experience, analyze site traffic, and offer personalized content.

2. What types of cookies do we use?

LUMARA may use the following categories:

a) Strictly necessary cookies

These cookies are essential for basic site functionality (e.g., access to secure areas, membership forms). They cannot be disabled from our system.

b) Performance cookies

They allow us to collect anonymous data about how you interact with our site (pages visited, time spent, errors). This helps us improve functionality.

c) Functional cookies

They allow us to remember your preferences (language, region, accessibility settings) to personalize your experience.

d) Third-party and analytical cookies

Some third-party tools, such as Google Analytics, may use cookies for statistical analysis. We do not use cookies for personalized advertising.

---

3. How can you control the use of cookies?

When you first access the site, you'll see a pop-up message allowing you to accept or manage your cookie preferences.
