

Legal Notice

Last updated: 06/16/2025

1. Identification

This website is operated by LUMARA Human Rights , a U.S. registered non-profit organization, headquartered at:

Official Address:

5205 COUNTRY PINES CT , RALEIGH, NC 27616 United States

Institutional telephone: +1 (919) 948-0058

Institutional email: contacto@lumarahumanrights.org

Official domain: <https://www.lumarahumanrights.org>

2. Nature of the Organization

LUMARA Human Rights is a non-profit organization dedicated to defending human rights, denouncing authoritarian regimes, and protecting victims, activists, and defenders. All information published on this site is for informational purposes only and serves our statutory purposes.

3. Intellectual Property

All content on this website (text, images, graphics, logos, documents, etc.) is the exclusive property of LUMARA Human Rights or its accredited authors, unless otherwise indicated. Reproduction, distribution, or modification without express authorization is prohibited.

4. Responsibility for Content

LUMARA Human Rights is not responsible for the misuse of the information published or for any decisions made by third parties based on it. The information may be modified or updated without prior notice.

This site may contain links to external websites, over which LUMARA has no control. LUMARA assumes no responsibility for the content of such sites.

5. Data Protection

This site collects personal data exclusively with the user's consent, in accordance with our [Privacy and Data Protection Policy]. The processing of such information is carried out strictly for institutional purposes.

6. Applicable Legislation

This site is governed by the laws of the State of North Carolina (USA) and by United States federal regulations, without prejudice to international human rights protections.